CREDIT UNION DAY at the STATEHOUSE

March 23, 2010
Columbus

Share the credit union message
personally with state legislators

Join your credit union peers in personally delivering the message of credit unions' service to Ohioans to your state legislators.

Credit union leaders from throughout the state will converge in downtown Columbus for a day of meetings with legislators, committee hearings, and remarks from Ohio's top policymakers. Inform legislators of the important role credit unions play in their districts and discuss public funds and other top issues.

Last year, more than 75 Ohio credit union leaders gathered in Columbus to personally deliver the message of credit union safety and stability to Ohio's legislators during the 2009 Credit Union Day at the Statehouse. The action-packed day included 77 meetings with state lawmakers, committee sessions, and remarks from Ohio's top policymakers. The 2010 Credit Union Day at the Statehouse promises to be just as high powered.

There is no cost to participate, but registration is required. Breakfast, lunch, and reception with heavy hors d'oeuvres. The event is sponsored by OCUL Services Corporation.
